

1: Wall design was hand-painted to echo the design patterns seen on the Mezzanine.

3: New luxury mattresses to ensure a peaceful night's sleep. Custom, iron bed frames with the iconic Driskill "D"

6: Carpet design is an interpretation of the city grid of Austin between the years of 1853 and 1890. Both The Driskill and The Capitol building can be found in the carpet pattern.

2: The printed headboard design was inspired by German photographer Reinhard Görner. His photography focuses on architectural details and use of perspective to draw in the viewer. The off-centered mirror echoes Görner's love of imbalanced design while reflecting the natural daylight from the room's windows.

4: The trunk-like end tables are inspired by the traveling trunks of the Victorian area.

5: Connectivity has increased through improved WiFi, additional USB ports, Bluetooth-capable iHome units and additional standard outlets bringing modern comforts to the historic guest rooms.

7: The colors of the room are light and sophisticated while honoring the authentic charm of The Driskill with historic sketches of the original building adorning the valances and the custom cabinet.
